

Scott Putnam &lt;putnam.scott@gmail.com&gt;

---

Fwd: infinity

---

From: Scott Putnam <putnam.scott@gmail.com>
To: Lise-Anne Putnam <liseanne.putnam@gmail.com>

Fri, Sep 1, 2017 at 4:02 PM

From: Scott Putnam <putnam.scott@gmail.com>
Date: Sun, Aug 27, 2017 at 2:18 AM
Subject: infinity
To: Lise-Anne Putnam <liseanne.putnam@gmail.com>

Hobbes- I miss you deeply and I want to keep our conversation generative and not reactive like last night. I take responsibility for my actions and I am reforming them in every possible way. My actions have always been honorable, and I ask that you see them at least occasionally positively, and not just negatively. For example with Jessica, a normal man would have kept the relationship secret and full of dishonorable behavior-- . and presumably still have an intact marriage. You have an amazing devoted husband and father, please do not throw me away without a serious effort to bring this crisis to a resolution.

I have always been devoted to the family and honorable to you, and please grant me the ability to reform my actions. I am doing everything you ask, and I ask that be honorable to me with your requests. Please, I beg from the deepest part of my soul to make the infinity return. I love you, and I have never stopped loving you.

I have found my time with psychiatrists, family-oriented friends and Esther very productive. Please spend some time with Esther and keep the conversation generative. I love you.

----- Responded message -----

From: Lise-Anne <liseanne.putnam@gmail.com>
Date: Tue, Aug 29, 2017 at 2:19 AM
Subject: Re: infinity
To: Scott Putnam <putnam.scott@gmail.com>

Thank you for your words. You have asked that this conversation not be reactive, but rather generative and I will happily accept that request. That being said if you re read your text there is not a lot for me to work with in regards to a sharing of ideas...there are declarative statements and requests.

You have asked that I attempt to see your actions in a positive light, I am happy to do so.

I have no interest in the behavior of any other man, which I see as a positive, I am not married to any other man.

You have asked that I do not throw our relationship away without a serious effort to resolve this crisis, certainly I will not. I am asking that you give me a chance to heal and believe. My request that you move out is firmly grounded in that goal, and therefore I believe honourable, I hope that you will hear my voice.

Finally, I will take time to listen to Esther Perel

----- Responded message -----

From: Scott Putnam <putnam.scott@gmail.com>
Date: Tue, Aug 29, 2017 at 7:37 AM
Subject: Re: infinity
To: Lise-Anne <liseanne.putnam@gmail.com>

Thank you. I do hear your voice. I will move out and give you a chance to heal and believe again. I look forward to your return, and miss you and the boys dearly.
love max